Hákon Ágústsson from PhotoQuotes.com and www.Imageree.com, shares some great quotes on the topic of photography and explains why they're worth knowing.

You've got to push yourself harder. You've got to start looking for pictures nobody else could take. You've got to take the tools you have and probe deeper. – William Albert Allard

We are always looking for reasons for not taking good pictures. Cartier-Bresson used film camera, same lens, no flash, same shutter speed – he didn't need the newest digital equipment to take great photos.

We all have access to some subjects that no one else has access to – look at your friends' hobbies, the workplaces of friends and family, and any place you have access to to find a vision that comes uniquely from your access. Many people would dream of having the same access you have, and you might not have considered how valuable your access is.

“ If I saw something in my viewfinder that looked familiar to me, I would do something to shake it up. – Garry Winogrand

How often have you seen a photo that is missing something, thinking, “This is a good photo but I'd make it different somehow.”? Sometimes small things make a big difference. Don't be afraid to shake things up.

“ I always thought good photos were like good jokes. If you have to explain it, it just isn't that good. – Anonymous

Sometimes it is interesting to hear the story behind the photo and you see the photo in a new light. But in most cases a photo shouldn't need a story to back it up. It has to speak for itself.

“ Twelve significant photographs in any one year is a good crop. – Ansel Adams

Even one of the masters in photography, Ansel Adams, didn't expect to get more than 12 great photographs each year.

How can anyone expect more?

Take a look at your last year in photos – do you really see 12 photos that stand out from the rest?

BITS and PIECES

The Mid-winter Dinner at the Bar & Grill was a great success. We were looked after very well and promptly by ‘James the Christmas elf’ (aka our waiter). He did a superb job. The food and company was excellent and a good time was enjoyed by all who came along.

The trip to Murchison was enjoyed by all who went . There was plenty to do and see, including fungi, landscapes, beach forest, a waterfall and the old Lyell Cemetery.

Thanks to a suggestion by Brian Clark we now have a ‘Suggestions & Questions’ box. And for members who prefer to leave their membership badges at the club rooms there is now also a box for them to leave them in. Both boxes are on the table by the door.

Hákon Ágústsson from PhotoQuotes.com and www.Imageree.com shares some great quotes on the topic of photography and explains why they're worth knowing.

"It can be a trap of the photographer to think that his or her best pictures were the ones that were hardest to get. – Timothy Allen – On editing photos"

Editing photos can often be the most difficult but also the most satisfying part. Sometimes taking a quick look at all the photos and then going away for a while before taking a closer look lends a fresh eye to your viewing. You may see things you did not notice previously. Stepping away from the mass of photos can make certain images stand out in your mind's eye, leaving a memorable impression that can characterize a good photo.
