National Photojournalism Competition 2012

We have come of age and would like to invite you to enter the upcoming 21st National Photojournalism Competition.

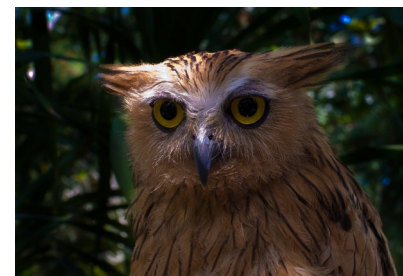

There have been so many golden opportunities over the summer months to capture those magic moments of people doing things, be it while you have been out 4wheel driving been to the races, sporting events busking or within your own family or neighborhood to name but a few. Something is always happening.

This is the competition that will enable you to share those moments by competing in our annual event

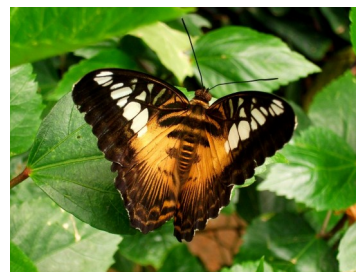

Entries are to be in by July 31st and results will be announced in August
The rules and Entry forms can be downloaded from our web site
