YOU MIGHT BE A PHOTOGRAPHER IF

Top Ten Reasons You Might Be a Photographer

10. You have nightmares of people using the “P mode” we won’t even talk about the “green mode.” That’s just too scary.
09. 30,000 family photos neatly categorized in Lightroom. Zero photos of you.
08. When at a car dealership, you translate the price of a car in your head to “Six 5D Mark II’s.” Your last power bill cost two monopods.
07. Touchdown plays are somewhat distracting because you can see the white glass on the sidelines.
06. You are frequently greeted with “What are you taking a picture of?!?” Instead of “hello”.
05. You’d rather buy the shirt that more closely resembles 18% gray.
04. Your carry-on is heavier than your checked bags.
03. You describe disgusting old dilapidated barns as “beautiful” (via Lori Anderson)
02. Number of lenses > Pairs of shoes you own (Carsten Deutschmann)
01. You actually believe a wizard could fit in your pocket.

Some more reasons

You’re somewhat troubled by the fact that you don’t know how to calculate the shutter speed of your eyes when you blink.

You’ve gotten a ticket for an illegal U-turn to go back for THE shot (Becca Morrison)

You have finally become oblivious to the odd stares you get when you whip out your camera to take a sweet shot that no one else seems to notice but you (Deborah Austin)

Everyone hands you their cameras at family events and says “take some photos for me” (Khurt Williams)
