2010 is drawing to an end.

Christmas is nearly on us and the silly season seems to start earlier and earlier each year. Decorations have appeared in the shops, and end of year lunches, dinners, and parties are in full swing. Photo clubs are no exception, and the Rangiora club final night was held Friday 26th November, and a great evening it was too. The theme was the glamour of the Oscar nights in the 1950's and the effort put into the costumes by many of the attendees was fantastic. The evening went with a swing with belly-dancers, continuous supper and a rip roaring rock band to finish up with. A very enjoyable night. Another final night coming up is CPS's on 3rd December, followed a week later by your own NBPC final night on 7th December.

It has been a busy and eventful year for the club. As well as our normal competitions and Photojournalism competition, we also put on the Southern Regional in October which was enjoyed by all who attended.

Not all events in 2010 were so enjoyable, as we all found out early on the morning of Saturday 4th September. That day will remain in our memories as the day that changed the face of Christchurch, and I suspect the lives of many of us as well. The earth shook, buckled, and cracked. Buildings toppled, pipes burst, sand and water erupted like miniature volcanoes, destroying the hard work people had put into their homes. The sheer force of the earthquake was awesome yet not one life was lost.

Sadly another disaster befell the mainland, the loss of 29 men in the Pike River Mine explosion. Although the earthquake caused widespread damage at a cost of billions of dollars, compared to the loss of the lives of 29 men it pales in significance. Even now it is still hard to comprehend that after such violence and destruction that the earthquake caused, not one person was killed. That must surely be the miracle of the year.
